FRIDAY, MAY 8, 1903.

When King Edward visited Paris, the band played neither "Waterloo" nor "Fashoda."

A secret hearing on no grave a charge as birthright would be a false step from the outset, and would indicate a white washed verdict.

It will cost more to celebrate the Louisianais purchase by the St. Louis exposition than Uncle Sam paid for the entire territory at the time of its purchase.

Harvard College has been well remembered during the past twelve months, for in that time the gifts to that institution have amounted to over four million dollars.

Carnegie is in favor of national ownership of railroads. If he wishes to die poor, he might buy up the railroad properties of the country and present them to the people.

Alas, possibly, for Weymouth. Married policemen in Manilla are to have $15 a month more than bachelor policemen. Please, ladies, don't go to Manilla; some of you stay at home.

Still much and various talk about Democratic nomination of Mr. Cleveland for the presidency; but Mrs. Cleveland says, "No sir, no more White House for me." There now, Grover; will you be good?

It is estimated that 28,000 new automobiles will be built this year in this country. Dear me! It won't be long before the streets afoot in 1904; we'll all have to fly in to keep out of their way.

A number of Worcester ministers are preparing for a bare half mile, but how would they settle the difficulties of the game in conformity to their religious scruples when it came to a question of foul tips and stealing bases?

Governor Bates is keeping a sharp watch on the legislators, in order that injudicious legislation shall be restrained. He has this week added one more vote to his string, making eight in all. This results in more careful work by the legislators.

A sad thing about near Boston is one's necessarily intimate acquaintance with ocean disasters—the latest loss, eighteen Gloucester fishermen of Sable Island, on Wednesday morning, out of a crew of twenty-one. And who shall tell of home hearts that break?

Wasn't it real nice in President Roosevelt's last Sunday, to invite two little girls into his pew, and then sing with them from out and the same hymn book? And won't said little girls always have something nice to talk about, and to tell their own little girls in the summers yet to come?

Greater New York Democrats are trying hard to save their "rooster" emblem, by proving that they cast 10,000 votes at the last election. Well, 'tis too bad, and no mistake, to lose both the election and the bird that crows. However, help elect Mr. Bryan in November, 1904, and the "rooster" will come back.

Does it pay to be clean? Ask Cuba, where the death rate last year was only 21.19 per 1,000, while the average for the thirty years ending 1900 was 41.91 per 1,000. The Americans first drove the Spaniards out of Cuba, and then compelled the Cubans to clean up on the matter.

Three of our multi-millionaires have bought up over half a million acres of coal lands in the Choctaw nation, and are looking to a future monopoly in the west. With the remembrance of last winter's suffering in view, it would seem better to take steps to free the nation from such a monopoly, rather than to draw the bands tighter.

Good for the Massachusetts Senate, which yesterday rejected the bill for the "relief" of the Westminster Chambers, a building erected in Copley square, Boston, in open defiance of the law regulating the height of buildings. Weymouth bicyclists may defy the sidewalk law, but Boston builders must keep their distance from the skies.

Servant girls usually come high, but here is a Chicago millionaire offering to give a million dollars to the one who, in addition to possessing all the requirements of a good servant, will sign an agreement to remain with him until he dies. But she'd be spelled long before he died, by just contemplating how she'd spend her million.

After nearly years of existence a Providence bank voted to close up, sell its business to the Union Trust Company. The news item speaks of "many" other national banks in Providence which have done the same thing. This would seem to indicate that a bank trust, two sister to the coal trust, is fixing things much to its own selfish sediments.

The Illinois legislature has passed an act permitting the city of Chicago as well as other municipalities to buy and operate the street railways within their limits. The bill was bitterly opposed and fought by the entire street railway interests. By this law, the state of Illinois takes the initiative in the growing sentiment of municipal ownership of public franchises.

Here is a prominent New York educator attempting to prove that President Roosevelt does not know how to pronounce his name. If he does not, the first time Teddy has ever stumbled down in pronouncing anything. He usually calls a spade a spade without leaving a bit of chance for any doubt as to his meaning. No man's name as his own name may easily be left to him.

Perhaps, possibly the school board and school teachers (not the scholars) of Weymouth ought to take on a new alertness. And this because out in Illinois one teacher is suing another for $2,500 damages because "him" hugged "her" so hard as to dislocate a female shoulder;

the suit being simple for dislocation, not for entwining. What if the "disease" should strike Weymouth?

May day has brought again the season of hanging the pretty Maybaskets with their sweets and flowers. With the movement of excitement and chase, and the genuine gift, however small, there is often opportunity for a bit of enjoyment for the boys and girls. But the Maybasket element comes out, and the occasion is seized for harsh judgment; it is quite time that at least some parental inquiry be made.

The possible candidacy of ex-President Cleveland for the next Democratic presidential nomination is giving some of the politicians and partisan organs cold tremors. Even "Uncle Mark" is rather scared. Meanwhile, the ex-chefain calmly goes fishing or else gives utterance to a bit of most excellent statesmanlike thought that meets the approval of many thinking men, other than politicians.

It will cost more to celebrate the Louisianais purchase by the St. Louis exposition than Uncle Sam paid for the entire territory at the time of its purchase.

Harvard College has been well remembered during the past twelve months, for in that time the gifts to that institution have amounted to over four million dollars.

Carnegie is in favor of national ownership of railroads. If he wishes to die poor, he might buy up the railroad properties of the country and present them to the people.

Alas, possibly, for Weymouth. Married policemen in Manilla are to have $15 a month more than bachelor policemen. Please, ladies, don't go to Manilla; some of you stay at home.

The demand for registration of real estate under the Torrens land registration law was never so great as at the present time. The calls for the action of the court of registration now come from all over the state and the officials declare that it is but a question of a very short time when the larger portion of the real property will be held under title of this convenient, inexpensive and simple system.

Now that ex-Mayor Ames of Minneapolis has been brought to trial for his acts of robbery and crime while holding public office, he sets up the specious plea that his acts were due to incipient paralysis, evidently with the expectation that his acts will be forgiven, and a light or no sentence at all given him. Mental aberration is used as a cloak to cover a multitude of sins nowadays. However, Ames was yesterday found guilty of bribery taking.

Great Britain's Colonial Secretary Chamberlain has asked Parliament for a loan of $100,000,000 to be used in South Africa for the purchase and development of all existing railroads, and for other public improvements. And so the average Englishman, including all who so cruelly cried and crowded, "Down with the Boers!" is made anew to realize that "those who dance must pay the fiddler." Kruger's "staggering" price is not yet all paid.

There is said to be, and to have long been true, the veriest corruption of rotteness, or rather of corruption in the post office department of Washington. Therefore the good advice of Senator Lodge to Postmaster General Payne to "keep your nose to the very bottom" probe and squeeze till the blood comes. Can it be that while American post office officials in France were opening a way for themselves to prison, their "superior" officers in Washington were guilty of even worse wickedness?

There are general laws now on the statute books of Massachusetts under which street railways can incorporate, if they will. Why, then, are there no special street railroads? The law was not passed to incorporate the matter of coal, and so far as I am aware, nothing has been done to incorporate the matter of coal.

The committee will evidently do much hard and honest work. While their report will commend itself to every friend of square dealing between man and man, gods and extortions will condemn the report. The committee will hold forty-one public hearings; thirty in Boston, eleven in other parts of the State, and examined 300 witnesses. They found that, owing primarily to the miners' strike, the old and unduly the reform of the railroads, the miners have been compelled to turn to their old mode. Did they get to talking about Triple Alliance business and not know just where and how to stop? Or, was he with all the versatile enthusiasm of youth, describing his few years ago visit to Jerusalem? Or, was he seeking advice as to how may succeed better than did Philip II. of Spain in securing governmental control of Holland, and not so seriously hurt the feelings of Queen Wilhelmina? And did he not make himself a Czar of Russia's ambition to make himself Royal Visitor to the Vatican? How the boys will be tickled to death with the Pope?

In the evening's entertainment was given consisting of gramophone selection by Mr. E. N. Hall. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing chess. Mrs. Ella C. Connor, a handkerchief case; Mr. George Spooner the gentleman's prize, a hand painted picture frame, and John A. Neal the booby prize, a fancy bell.

The committee in charge consisted of Miss Sarah A. White, Mrs. Clara L. Alden, Mrs. A. Rose Hunt, Mrs. Alice L. Neal, Mrs. S. Addie Pease, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Pratt, Mrs. Hattie H. Sietson, Mrs. Carrie C. Virgin and Mrs. Mary A. Williams.

Patriotic Services.

As was anticipated for the programme published last week, the Annual Patriotic dinner at the Baptist Church, on Thursday evening, attracted a crowded house, and were of great merit. There was only one failure of appearance, Miss Viola Blackwell, who, much to the regret of many, was detained by a severe cold. Without disparagement of any of the members of the church and school who have taken part in previous patriotic services, and whose excellencies are well known, and have had appreciative notice, mention may be made of Mrs. Anna.

Artists and others appeared for the first time in these services; came out of appreciation of the old soldiers. His organ solo, "America" with variations, and other selections gave him opportunity to exhibit some of his rare powers as an organist, and to delight the hundreds who heard him. George A. White's cornet solo, "The Vacant Chair," had the enchantment of a real life. Of Mrs. Estelle W. Richards' recitation, "Travels of the Unknown," the author is already well known, and highly successful.

He was a girl of great promise, and a violinist of marked success, a pianist of excellent technique, and a composer with a bright future before him. His march, "The Cochato Club" dedicated to the Cochato Club of Braintree, was a favorite from its first rendition by the Braintree Orchestral Club of which he is leader. He is the leader, it is to be regretted that the trouble he has experienced with his eyes has put him beyond active service with that popular young musical organization of which several Weymouth boys are members.

THINGS WEAVERLY.

The Pine Tree Club of Braintree held its annual last week. Mrs. Ethan Braintree claimed the club as its very own, and unduly the reform of the railroads, the miners have been compelled to turn to their old mode. Did they get to talking about Triple Alliance business and not know just where and how to stop? Or, was he with all the versatile enthusiasm of youth, describing his few years ago visit to Jerusalem? Without disparagement of any of the members of the church and school who have taken part in previous patriotic services, and whose excellencies are well known, and have had appreciative notice, mention may be made of Mrs. Anna.

Artists and others appeared for the first time in these services; came out of appreciation of the old soldiers. His organ solo, "America" with variations, and other selections gave him opportunity to exhibit some of his rare powers as an organist, and to delight the hundreds who heard him. George A. White's cornet solo, "The Vacant Chair," had the enchantment of a real life. Of Mrs. Estelle W. Richards' recitation, "Travels of the Unknown," the author is already well known, and highly successful.

He was a girl of great promise, and a violinist of marked success, a pianist of excellent technique, and a composer with a bright future before him. His march, "The Cochato Club" dedicated to the Cochato Club of Braintree, was a favorite from its first rendition by the Braintree Orchestral Club of which he is leader. He is the leader, it is to be regretted that the trouble he has experienced with his eyes has put him beyond active service with that popular young musical organization of which several Weymouth boys are members.

THINGS WEAVERLY.

The Pine Tree Club of Braintree held its annual last week. Mrs. Ethan Braintree claimed the club as its very own, and unduly the reform of the railroads, the miners have been compelled to turn to their old mode. Did they get to talking about Triple Alliance business and not know just where and how to stop? Or, was he with all the versatile enthusiasm of youth, describing his few years ago visit to Jerusalem? Or, was he seeking advice as to how may succeed better than did Philip II. of Spain in securing governmental control of Holland, and not so seriously hurt the feelings of Queen Wilhelmina? And did he not make himself a Czar of Russia's ambition to make himself a Royal Visitor to the Vatican? How the boys will be tickled to death with the Pope?

In the evening's entertainment was given consisting of gramophone selection by Mr. E. N. Hall. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing chess. Mrs. Ella C. Connor, a handkerchief case; Mr. George Spooner the gentleman's prize, a hand painted picture frame, and John A. Neal the booby prize, a fancy bell.

The committee in charge consisted of Miss Sarah A. White, Mrs. Clara L. Alden, Mrs. A. Rose Hunt, Mrs. Alice L. Neal, Mrs. S. Addie Pease, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Pratt, Mrs. Hattie H. Sietson, Mrs. Carrie C. Virgin and Mrs. Mary A. Williams.

Patriotic Services.

As was anticipated for the programme published last week, the Annual Patriotic dinner at the Baptist Church, on Thursday evening, attracted a crowded house, and were of great merit. There was only one failure of appearance, Miss Viola Blackwell, who, much to the regret of many, was detained by a severe cold. Without disparagement of any of the members of the church and school who have taken part in previous patriotic services, and whose excellencies are well known, and have had appreciative notice, mention may be made of Mrs. Anna.

THE MOTHERS KNOW

A growing, active boy puts clothing to its supreme use. It is the mother of such a boy who understands, as nobody else does, what other materials hold their color, are well put together, and stand wear as they should.

Hundreds of mothers have told us how absolute is the satisfaction which gives them, in all respects, as worn by their sons.

We cannot conceive of a higher endorsement — can you?

WHEN THE TIDE TURNED

By MARIE AVARY

Copyright, 1902, by McClure's Newspaper Syndicate.

The fresh sea-breeze gave Acton Davis a saucy "good morning" as he sauntered out on the porch. It blew Betty Fagan's yellow curly auburn hair round her face. She looked up joyously:

"Layshunes, are you here at last?" she cried merrily. "I have been waiting for you for ever so long."

Davis sat down beside her with good humor, and said: "I have heard, I tell you, what you said, 'What do you want this morning, child?'

The girl detected the shyness in his tone. A flush reddened her cheeks, and a faint, playful ring was on the said. "You are so unmerciful and want so many things, don't they?" Then, with swift return to her former bantering: "These are my commands; so read, mark, learn, and obey!"

"I will do my best," said Acton.

"I want you to promise to take me to Hazard Rocks this afternoon."

A shade fell on the man's face. She went on hastily: "I've wanted to go, I suppose, but I am almost over."

"You promised you would take me if I was very, very good, and, oh, I will be so lovely to scramble along the shore and find long strands of strange seaweed, and come back with expectant eyes full of glee, and start life! Please take me. I will be good."

Her eyes were shining and her cheeks pink with excitement as she bent toward him pleadingly.

The man hesitated as if fearful of paining her by a refusal. He seemed to be watching the white caps in their mad race for the shore. Then he said breathily: "No, I won't take you. I ought never to have promised, and so I have to be very, very virtuous in so dangerous a place. You would be sure to fall on those treacherous, slimy rocks, and then there would be the devil to pay. If the tide should catch us, there would be no hope."

Her eyes quivered as a child's, and the tears were sliding through her long lashes.

"I have given up all fear of paining her by a refusal. He seemed to be watching the white caps in their mad race for the shore. Then he said breathily: "No, I won't take you. I ought never to have promised, and so I have to be very, very virtuous in so dangerous a place. You would be sure to fall on those treacherous, slimy rocks, and then there would be the devil to pay. If the tide should catch us, there would be no hope."

Davis felt swift compunction for his hasty words. "I have only one wish: it's safe to say, I have it or I would prefer to forget about it, and we will go for a sail on the Petrel or anywhere else for your pleasure. Come show me that you can be a reasonable little girl."

It might not have resented his fatherly tone if a gay voice had not rung out behind her:

"What are you two fighting about, as usual? Give me an explanation!" And she laughed rather merrily. "It was Mrs. Neville, the source of Betty's worries for the last weeks."

The girl rose impetuously. "I have nothing to explain," she said laconically. "Mr. Davis can tell you what he likes."

"Suppose Hambin had taken his chance to return to his mother in the end?"

"All right, this is only a play, you know!" But the person who wrote under the name of Shakespeare practiced the art that hides art (some say the artist also), and he was far too wary to remind his audience that he was posing on their credulity. —ELEANOR MAXINE BARRECK.

Our Weymouth Landing Village.

A number of years ago, I remember a gathering in Lincoln hall, in the interests of village improvements. There were people from the south and north parts of the town and I recollect, how indignant felt to hear Mr. Elias Head say that he had been in the village to improve and beautify. Some one from South Weymouth did the same. They seemed to have come to this village as missionaries, to tell us what to do, to improve, not our souls, but our streets and about our dwellings. I feel indignant, for our village at that time was more beautiful than any other in town. How is it today? It is my pleasure on a pleasant afternoon to have my friend Hunt come with his carriage and together ride through the village, and see the beauty of our villages, and this is what I find. That our neighbors have made great advances, improving and beautifying, while our village has not held its place—the place it had when our neighbors came to teach us what was beautiful, some twenty years ago.

Our trouble came when the electric wires were strung in our streets, through and around our trees bordering the streets, many ruined entirely and many partially. Then comes the electric road; this road was given its own way, and our government made haste to remove, even from the leader of them all, this humiliation, this degradation and again restored to them their right of United States citizenship.

How can we delineate ourselves into believing that what is ignominious unbearable to them is honor and glory for us?

We have become so accustomed to this inconsistency that we think no more of it than the Chinese do of binding the feet of their girls.

Here we have an educated, moral, law-abiding, tax-paying class of people who are deeply interested in all that pertains to the welfare of their country, and are equally affected with the men by good or bad government, delid all voice in its affairs, and all this under a form of government that has for its battle cry "government of the people, by the people, and for the consent of the governed." Our men are ignorant of music," she said.

"Oh, no," replied the composer.

"The man who would enlighten us to the subject, proving the music worthless and entirely without originality."

"Leonecavalo, much amused, answered: "Up, on the contrary, it dispenses me. In it is the work of a more beginner, but it is still good enough to call him anything worse."

"When you are ignorant of music,"

she said.

"It is a great pity that I let it get into my head, and it let me with a very weak heart.

Leonecavalo, shortly after, took up his guitar and began to play.

While Russia may want peace in China,
she evidently wants also, a piece of China.
But is she a good judge of China?

The almost collapsed condition of Miss Alice Roosevelt ought to warn lots of young people that they cannot rush all day and dance half the night without breaking down.

The German Reichstag has recently adjoined after a single session of five years duration! We will cast no more reflections upon those sparsely legislatures sitting on Beacon Hill. Five years!

Wonder how many Weymouths are going to Concord next week to visit Emerson's former residence and present grave,
and so to better appreciate the centennial of his birth which comes on Monday, 25th inst.

After reading a lengthy article on the multiplicity of breakfast foods and their value in modern diet, a gentleman friend signed and remarked his wonder as to how his forefathers ever managed to get along.

Successful experiments have been made
in extracting sugar from birch sawdust. We have always wondered at the remarkable
sweetening effect of birch on the average
youngster. Truth, like murder, will eventually in time.

"He must be blind who does not note a
very dangerous growth of the gambling
spirit in American life. There is a great demand that somebody shall call a halt.
The women should do it." So says Rev.
Dr. Banks of New York.

Presidential politics, with nominating
conventions over a year hence, seems to be just now about there. Grover Cleveland
and William Bryan will advise his kind
to vote for Theodore Roosevelt.

On May 10, President Roosevelt went
to church and refused to review troops
because it was Sunday, and on the same
day twenty-six thousand people in Chicago
went to a ball game and didn't go to church.
The God-honoring example of such a
president is worth much to America
and the world.

We notice in an account of a golf game,
the expression "seven-up." We are not
proficient in this fashionable sport, but it
certainly can not be a desirable game for Sunday if "seven-up" enters into it.
That comes pretty near the line of prohibited
pleasures.

It is said that the Army Board favors a new rifle with barrel only two feet long,
whose ball only penetrates twenty-four inch-one-plank. This is interesting but less so than the evidence that interdenominational arbitration are on the increase.

The attention of boarding house keepers in this vicinity is called to the following notice, for the guidance of their patrons who was noticed in a western hotel, and which read with special emphasis on the latter part. "Boarders take by the day or week. Those not paying promptly, take by the week."

President Roosevelt uttered a great
truth when in a speech in Kansas during
his present tour he said: "In the long
run, wage earner and capitalist will go
down in common ruin if each does not
honestly try to get on with justice to the
other and work out a scheme of action
which shall be to their common advantage."

The fact that all New Hampshire cities went for home, and two-thirds of the towns in either way, seems to prove that large communities are dangerously apt to be on the wrong side of this great moral question. No wonder that strong men have written strongly on the perils of cities, and yet many villages are equally perilous.

The death in New York on Tuesday, of Richard Henry Stoddard, born in Hingham
in 1825, reminds us that Weymouth's next door neighbor furnished one of America's good poets. On the assumption of President McKinley's "Hoover Schoolmaster," or some other character, used to say, "While you're gettin' get a plenty."

President Roosevelt uttered a great
truth when in a speech in Kansas during
his present tour he said: "In the long
run, wage earner and capitalist will go
down in common ruin if each does not
honestly try to get on with justice to the
other and work out a scheme of action
which shall be to their common advantage."

A Chicago Yankee, named Veres, has given, is giving, the Londoners a twofold shakeup. First, got from Parliament
"tube" or subway privileges which were supposed to be the prerogative of the British. Second, he is pushing the Spanish with a vigor and success that simply paralyzes the natives. And then to his aid, his Yankee "impudence" has led him to decline any further invitations to parliamentary assemblies, and "met a few gentlemen."
Indeed, he went so far as to tell the Honorable Gentlemen who last invited him, that he thinks politics and public improvements ought not to be closely conjoined!!

Archbishop Quigley is circumstantially reported to have sold in Chicago that "within twenty years the United States will rule the world, and that when the United States rules the world the Cuban revolution will rule the world," this view of Catholicism's rapid growth in this country. And yet, the Mexican revolution has not even had the Catholic population therefore, how would it do to say that "within twenty years" the Baptists or Methodists etc. ? However, the Archbishop has given both American politicians and American religionists something to think about.

Lively debate in the lower branch of the State Legislature on Tuesday, over the resolution to so amend the Constitution that cities and towns may deal in fuel; Weymouth, for instance, having its own coal yard. Some vigorously opposed such permission, but there is a strong large voice to the rescue, passed to order. Of course the coal must be had and two-thirds of the House must vote in favor of it before it can be sent to the Senate, where only a majority is required to pass. All Weymouth will watch the vote of their representatives on this important question.

With eleven ocean liners, bringing over 1,000 emigrants each, it looks as though we might in time get an over-supply of even a good thing.
How Uncle Sam won't get appetitis. Some of the importations are of a somewhat indigestible nature, and are liable to get stuck in the verniform of body politic.

In Rev. H. M. Kemp's sermon at the opening in New York of the annual convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution, he told the twelve hundred American blood should be kept pure, and American traditions not be disdained.
And let every American say, "Amen!"

Former President Cleveland has been bearing strong testimony to the power of newspapers in politics and other departments of life. Indirectly, he thus causes every man to be a newspaper reader
and supporter. The cause is good. Villages and towns, like cities and communities, need papers for their own
local spreading, as for the world's welfare.

Charles H. Willoby, the manager and editor of the Weymouth Gazette, has been hearing strong testimony to the power of newspapers in politics and other departments of life. Indirectly, he thus
causes every man to be a newspaper reader
and supporter. The cause is good. Villages and towns, like cities and communities, need papers for their own
local spreading, as for the world's welfare.

Lynn's labor troubles are shadowed in the public mind for the moment by the case of a woman who was snatched from death in front of a locomotive, only to have the man who saved her life for handing her so violently and disarranging her clothing, and who wound up by telling him he was "no gentleman." Some people, like republicans, are manifestly ungrateful.

Members of the Young Women's State
Christian Temperance Union had a good time in semi-annual convention at Attleboro, yesterday. Young women more than any other one class, perhaps, hold the balance of power; if Charlie or Tom or Harry thinks more of a glass of beer than of his best girl, then he'd be g. should
"shake" him.

President Roosevelt talked about small families, or "race suicide," and went West. There he has been confronted with a row of sixteen brothers, each over six feet tall and all the sons of one mother and father; also, he has eaten cannabis cooked by the mother of thirty-four children. Evidently "Teddy" forgot the "wid and woolly," where all crops are apt to be extra abundant.

The closing meetings of the season of the W. A. Society and the Women's Society of Christian Endeavor on Monday and Tuesday evenings last may well remind the people of Weymouth of the good work which by them and other patriotic women is being done. They work quietly, but they work efficiently, bringing help to many whose sorrow is that of bereavement. Their work is without selfishness; their spirit
is that of patriotism.

The head man of each England, Germany, Russia and France has been, or is about to be, swinging around the courts of Europe, and now the Commonwealth of King Christian of Denmark is about to ditto; and King C. is eight-five years old.
What will all this do-nobbling mean?
It is the grand-dad of Edward VII of England. It is somewhat like the "Home-Wise" of the Persian Gulf.

Every year every paper gives from five to ten thousand dollars to the Red Cross, and the Red Cross is an excellent organization.

The local Home-Week meetings in Weymouth this week are a success, enthusiasm
is high for the Commonwealth's
"Home Week." June 20 to August 2, how will they be attended? What will be done at the meeting at the Baptist Church vestry this evening? One thing must not be done this evening, or at any time, namely: action favorable to the laying of some outside politician to deliver the Home-Week Address. But only Weymouths, past, present, on duty that day, will be allowed in the platform. Invite the speaker before the meeting, and let him into the secret of what is to be done.

The Weymouth Home-Week Address
will be delivered by Rev. Dr. George Bryant, who will advise his kind
to vote for Theodore Roosevelt.

On May 10, President Roosevelt went
to church and refused to review troops
because it was Sunday, and on the same
day twenty-six thousand people in Chicago
went to a ball game and didn't go to church.
The God-honoring example of such a
president is worth much to America
and the world.

We notice in an account of a golf game,
the expression "seven-up." We are not
proficient in this fashionable sport, but it
certainly can not be a desirable game for
Sunday if "seven-up" enters into it.
That comes pretty near the line of prohibited
pleasures.

Successful experiments have been made
in extracting sugar from birch sawdust. We
have always wondered at the remarkable
sweetening effect of birch on the average
youngster. Truth, like murder, will eventually in time.

"He must be blind who does not note a
very dangerous growth of the gambling
spirit in American life. There is a great
demand that somebody shall call a halt.
The women should do it." So says Rev.
Dr. Banks of New York.

Presidential politics, with nominating
conventions over a year hence, seems to
be just now about there. Grover Cleveland
and William Bryan will advise his kind
to vote for Theodore Roosevelt.

Call on Sylvester & Jones

Is all you hear them say,
You see their Motor Bicycles going by Nearly every day.

The style and make of these new wheels

Are the best seen on the street,

Most every one rides one of these machines,

And for speed they can't beat.

You see a fellow riding along,

On one of these new bikes,

You have a look and he is gone—

Gone clean way out of sight.

Their factory is over on Broad Street,

And they will be very much pleased

If you will give them a call.

So come one and come all,

And they will attend at once to your needs.

FRIDAY, MAY 22, 1903.

"Complimentary pay rolls" is a new name for stealing.

And this is an anniversary week. The season is really topsy-turvy.

"Comin' through the Rye" will be a popular song, when that new crop gets well grown on Boston Common.

Professor Goodspeed declares that each and every one of us is an electric lightning plant. This goes a step beyond lightning ownership, even.

From the latest census it appears that the Indian race increased in numbers nearly 17,000 in the decade previous to 1900. From this it would seem that there is no very great reason to believe that "Poor Lo" is in danger from race suicide.

Boston seldom entertains a more important organization than the American Social Science Association, in session in Huntington hall, M. I. T., today and tomorrow. An editor, McKelway of the Brooklyn Eagle, is among the prominent.

Russia still continues to occupy a prominent position in the public eye and mind. The atrocious treatment of the Jews is enough to make even the bear blush for shame. She never let Macaulay alone and devote her energies to exciting her present territory.

Miss Margaret, the youngest daughter of Hon. John D. Long, graduates next month from the Johns Hopkins medical school, and becomes a physician. Her elder sister is a graduate nurse from this same college. Evidently the Hon. John will not want for care in his future illnes.

Andrew Carnegie of library fame, is said to have given away $1,000,000 for philanthropic purposes late. His income is of regular proportions, however, and he is in no immediate danger of dying, but he must be given credit for being the most liberal man in the world.

It comes to the American world today that Sibley, Cape Breton, will return Carnegie's $15,000 for a Sidney library, because he is said to have sold the iron and steel industry of Cape Breton is a "mirage." Sensible, unsensible Sibleyites; perhaps they'll yet need more than $15,000 to disprove the alleged saying.

The prize for exhibition of race prejudice should be awarded Miss Louise Hadley of Indianapolis, who refused to make up the bed occupied by Booker T. Washington. Such "poor white trash" is unfit to breathe the air at the same time with this great leader of the negro in his path from ignorance to knowledge, skill and improvement.

If all of the trust products in the country would come to the example of President Baldwin of the Steel trust, the people would be more inclined to favor the paying of $1,000,000 salaries. Mr. Schwab has established a fine industrial school at Homestead at a cost of $125,000 and the citizens of that place are not to be taxed one single cent for its support.

A cafe is a useful article, and a gold headed one always carries with it a certain amount of dignity. However, we trust that it will be many years before Editor Prescott of the Quincy Patriot is ready obliged, on account of physical infirmities, to make a constant companion of the beautiful stick presented to him on Monday by the members of the Suburban Press Association.

On Monday next, May 25th, the one-hundredth anniversary of the birth of Ralph Waldo Emerson, it is proposed in honor of the occasion, we publish in this issue, a carefully prepared and authentic sketch of this author's life, together with several of his poems and a collection of his best epigrams, all of which will prove interesting reading to lovers of Emerson's works.

It looks as though the Post Office department had an all summer's job in investigating the charges that have been made against the various officials of that department. The late charges by Mr. Tulloch are so specific that a thorough investigation must be made. If the department heads should be so foolish as to attempt to evade a full investigation, President Roosevelt would undoubtedly insist that the necessary material with which to complete the trial "batch of copy" for him.

The secret of the fact that the monster may have a mission to perform, we refuse to kill it, but its presence, the absurdity and utter uselessness of the law will be fully proven and will create a sentiment in favor of its annulment at the next session of the Legislature. Such strenuous bill laws are demanded only by such outrageously indecent political bosses as Penneybacker, Quay, Penrose & Co.

"I am proud of the officers and men of the navy, and I am glad to say that we are not yet matched, notwithstanding the fact that the navy will continue in peace, for I believe the present policy of this nation will not change, except that our present naval relations have been severed, every other great power will continue. There never has been a time in all our history when our navy was better than it is to-day, and it is the best in the world, not equalled in the world. They are men of intelligence and heart."

Thus says Secretary Moody and thus also says every true American citizen.

The year book of the department of agriculture, which is soon to be published, will contain the official report of Dr. D. E. Salmon, chief of the bureau of animal industry, on the epidemic of foot and mouth disease which appeared in the New England states last fall. In the port Dr. Salmon states that the cattle were infected, and that 5,545 were slaughtered in order to prevent the spread of the contagion. The total compensation paid the owners of the cattle killed by the disease was $10,000.

Chicago is indeed having troubles of its own. Having recently received from "Windy workers" strike, during which it has been estimated that the residents of the "Windy City" were in some instances obliged to wear paper shirts, we see that time and again, been astocollars, cuffs, etc., and before they have hardly become accustomed to the realities again, they find themselves up against a string which threatens the city's food supply—that of the bakers and the market men. It is a distinctively 20th century experience.

Concerning the much talked of candidacy of ex-president Cleveland for the Democratic Presidential nomination the Riverside (Cal.) Weekly Enterprise says editorially:

"Grover Cleveland is said to be the favorite candidate for the Democratic nomination in 1904. In Biblical phrase, 'He waited for him that a milstone were hung about his neck,' etc., that he should accept the empty honor, for of a surety he would be led as a lamb to the slaughter. Mr. Cleveland will invite very humiliating experience if he allows himself to lead the forlorn Democratic forces in the next national campaign."

President Roosevelt's argument for larger American families must have inspired the promotion of the movement that proposed to pay mothers from $100 to $200 for the birth of a child. This new organization was formed in the latter part of April and approved by Frederick E. Cutting, the insurance commissioner, is planned on broadly philanthropic, ethical, educational and cooperative lines. It is established on a firm financial basis and has among the incorporators and members of the advisory board Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, Mrs. Edwin D. Mead, president of the Massachusetts Woman's Suffrage Association; Mrs. Julia K. Dyer, representative of the Charity and Industrial Congress Club; Mrs. Mary Parker, president of the Women's Club; Mrs. Estelle M. Merrill, Dr. Mary E. Jones, president of the Ladies' Physiological Institute; Mrs. Anna C. Fall, attorney and counselor-at-law; and Mrs. Mary Wood-Alen of Michigan.

The American Mothers' Birth Insurance Company is incorporated, with provisions for the necessary reserve fund, under the Massachusetts insurance laws. It is to be mutual plan, and by its means members may, by the payment of a monthly small sum monthly receive on the birth of a living child a cash benefit of from $100 to $500, depending on the form of membership and the number of payments made before the time of birth.

It is expected that an appropriation for dredging the Fore River will now be passed by the Legislature. Concerning the various moves that have occurred during the passage of the bill, Practical Politics says:

"The most surprising turtle-turning of the year has been done by the committee on harbors and public lands on the bill for dredging the Weymouth Fore river, which Representative Drinkwater of Braintree has introduced and which the bill calls for an expenditure of $25,000 to dredge a depth of 21 feet at low water level. When this bill went in hand, a hearing was, of course, adjourned and held over, until every physician accessible, any place reached for gout, sciatica, or fishing or shooting, and with all fresh air inhaled under exhilarating conditions."

Col. Albert A. Pope who has recently taken over all the assets of the American Bicycle Co. was once asked what was the first essential to success in selling a good thing. His answer was "advertising." What is the second essential, then? "Big advertising!" And the third? "The reply came in a thunder tone: "Big advertising!!!"

That is the declaration of his faith justified by works. He had a good thing and he made the public see it and know it and call for it by a yearly outcry rising to over half a million dollars in well-made, well-planned advertising.

What did he get from it? A net income running up to over a million in a single year. A profit for which he refused a half of $100,000.

The Australian Parliament met on Wednesday in a special session to take action on the railroad strike, and one can scarcely believe one's own reading as to the action proposed. Premier Irvine moved the second reading of a bill which provides that an employee leaving his work without giving four nights' notice to be assumed as having joined the strikers and will incur the penalty of $100 or a year's imprisonment, with loss of pension, and will be ineligible for future government employment. The bill also provides for the arbitration of strikes and the application of strike funds, and interference with employees. All of which indicates a certain harshness of treatment which reminds one of criminal heads exposed on London bridge. None the less, employers who are compelled to hire labor rights which must be protected, have the necessary material with which to complete the final "batch of copy" for him.

The defendant was a very old man, who had lived in the place where he was arrested, placed behind the bars and then upon the appearance of friends who are willing to go their bail, to be obliged to pay a fee of $2 to the hall commissioners.

He had in his possession a small green bug with a triangular ridge across its back, and a small green insect, inconceivable with any other smell in the universe, but a plain "stink." Did you ever put in your mouth, when out berrying, a handful of berries, that should have gone into your basket? Don't you remember when you then wished you had obeyed your mother's instructions to "mind and put them in your mouth instead of the basket?" This, not from any over conscientious scruples, but because the taste is terrible and stinks. That was one time when stolen fruit was not sweet. That is the trade mark of the "stink bug" which on account of its superabundance, is creating great havoc in Arizona.

We have always had them with us; a small green bug with a triangular ridge across its back, and a small green insect, inconceivable with any other smell in the universe, but a plain "stink." Did you ever put in your mouth, when out berrying, a handful of berries, that should have gone into your basket? Don't you remember when you then wished you had obeyed your mother's instructions to "mind and put them in your mouth instead of the basket?" The mammal plant of the Fore River Engine & Co. at Quincy Point, has, ever since the day of its dedication, been a source of trouble. The company has made an appropriation given for the celebration, and contributions will expand as much more as the decorations, the torchlight parade, and the fireworks display. The parade is expected to be even more elaborate than those which in years past, will have features of the county fair. It will occur in the morning with a long line of decorated private carriages and emblematic floats. The school children are to be in line, and one division will consist of fraternal bodies. Co. L. of the State Militia is to do escort duty.

Chicago is indeed having troubles of its own. Having recently received from "Windy workers" strike, during which it has been estimated that the residents of the "Windy City" were in some instances obliged to wear paper shirts, we see that time and again, been asto-lished at the gigantic undertakings which it has attempted, and at the well nigh incredible swiftness with which these undertakings have been pushed through to a successful termination. With what interest then, will the people of the towns and cities all over these New England states, read in this week's issue of their respective local weeklies, news of their editor's recent visit to this, the greatest of New England's industries. The Fore River Engine Co.'s success is very pleasing to us, and we are always glad of an opportunity to tell of the happenings at this establishment for the information of our brothers, who on account of their editor's recent visit to this, the greatest of New England's industries. RAILROAD NOTES.

Newly Items About the Men Who Run
the Electric.

Starter James Thoms was in his usual place at Hingham square on Sunday.

Motorman James Ford looked after the cars at Nantasket Beach terminus, Sunday.

Have you noticed the expression on the face of a popular motorman? How could you (af) Ford it him?

The new transfers which have recently been put into use are somewhat like a house divided. Let me get acquainted with them. They hard to learn, but on divisions where they have been used since January 1, I think them like them.

Want to keep your car side one of these transfers may be used as a chest protector on cold days. There are only four points to hold on the check.

The cool weather of the week will be the weekly music pleasure riding back like the "thirty cents," but nevertheless white shirtwaists were out and dinner jackets in.

Former members William Shields and Charles Curtis are again on the road.

Richard Shuey of the Center will don the buttons of a conductor again this season.

Conductor Litchfield is a very peculiar man, which will be several centuries old." He is the name of having a suit of clothes sewed to it.

Conductor Charles Butts, who was so severely injured by striking a pole last week, is improving.

John Coffey of Grove street has joined the ranks of the railroad men in the capacity of motorman.

There is no question but that an epidemic of the terrible summer disease, the mumps, is sweeping the town, the sounds that are wafted on the breezes of the night are some of them strangely weird and peace-destroying. Of course, we all know what makes perfect, but George Ade says in his new opera, "What do the neighbors say?"

If you and I and somebody else sit down and play a game of cards for money we're called "wining duffers," and just so we're not called "mumpsies" and fifty dollars or fifty dollars is called "queer code of ethics isn't it."

"THE WAYFARER."

TEACHERS' RECEPTION.

Their Annual Held at High School Hall.

The school teachers of the town held their annual reception in the High school hall, Tuesday evening. About fifty were present and a very enjoyable evening was spent in general socializing, including a program of piano solos, by Miss Marion Small of the Athens school, North Weymouth, vocal solo by Miss Donovan W. H. S., violin solo by Miss Mary S., and mandolin solo by Miss Katherine Hall of East Weymouth. A lunch of ham croquet, crackers, lemonade was served and a general good time was enjoyed by all.

The X-Rays.

Recent experiments with practical tests and examinations with the aid of the X-rays establish it as a fact that Cataract of the Stomach is not a disease of itself, but that it results from repeated attacks of the disease.

"Cataract," a cure for Cataract.

"Catering," a cure for Catering.

A word of many meanings.

But it's the Jaynes' Laboratory, at 48 Washington Street, we are talking about.

It covers a quarter acre of floor space.

It is a busy place all the year round.

It keeps eighteen girls and nine men hustling all the time — manufacturing, bottling, labeling, and wrapping, the various preparations which the people demand.

These preparations are all sold at one profit only, and then if they fail to cure, you get your money back.

All the latest up-to-date machinery is used to facilitate the work — bottling machines, tablet machines, mixers, sifters, pressure-filters, etc., etc. We also have a complete malt plant for turning out Jaynes' Liquid Extract of Malt — the only malt plant in the world owned and operated by a retail druggist.

All these things, combined with the efforts of the most skilled chemists and the very highest quality of materials, enable us to fully guarantee our preparations, and to refund the money in case they fail to cure.

A trial purchase by you is our best advertisement.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Cured Her.

The heart of the heart causes sudden death. It is an acute affection of the cardiac nerve, and is peculiar and septic in its onset, usually, and scatters it in the nerve trunk of the thigh. One of its most severe attacks is followed by a long time of comparative quietness. Strengthen the heart's action and enrich the blood with Dr. Miles' heart cure, and you will soon be cured.
